Charming Names, Charming Cottages

Our property list continues to grow and among others we have been lucky enough to add Ruby Cottage and Sweetpea Cottage in the east and Old Times and Monks Cottage in the West. We continue to offer flexible dates and our local booking team can always help you to find your perfect Norfolk getaway.

Catataxis

Fed up with the same old newsletters? Think that all the cottages look the same? Well, sometimes "more of the same can be different". If you fancy exercising your grey matter while you relax with a book on the longer winter nights then consider Catataxis by John Brodie Donald, the 'must read' of the season.

Fun, Festivity and Father Christmas

The North Norfolk Railway Santa Specials provide an exciting day out for youngsters, while the Cromer Christmas Seaside Special can be enjoyed by all the family, (and kids go free). The Thursford Christmas spectacular offers kids the chance to meet Santa by day, and grown-ups something a little spicier by night.

Tales of Wondrous Stories

'Back to the Garden' the award winning grocer / cafe near Holt is holding a magical story telling event, offering some special tasting evenings and extending its opening hours until Christmas Eve. It's just down the road from Holt where the beautiful Christmas lights will be illuminating the seasonal shoppers each evening.

Big Birds in a Stew

Norfolk's poultry are running scared as our favourite chef, Matthew Owsley-Brown, has put together a delicious winter recipe for us. But if you would prefer him to do the cooking then book up his catered party service, or better still treat yourself and some friends to one of the Owsley-Browns cookery workshops.

Christmas Weather?

Not whether you should be here or not but what is the weather? Last year most of the UK was paralysed with snow and ice but Norfolk's coastal proximity made the roads very passable and the big log fires kept everyone warm and toasty. Why not join the brave souls raising money for good causes in the county with a mid-winter dip in the North Sea?
